English Resources: Open Access Resources

AGRIS: Open Access Content

AGRIS is a global, public-domain database produced by the Food & Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO). Its five million structured bibliographical records represent research from over one hundred participating countries and cover a broad array of agricultural science and technology related fields such as forestry, animal husbandry, aquatic sciences, fisheries and human nutrition. The resource also includes unique grey literature such as unpublished scientific and technical reports, theses, conference papers and government publications.

Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals

AULIMP is a subject index to articles, news items and editorials from English language military and aeronautical periodicals. The AULIMP focuses on military, geopolitical and aeronautical topics. Articles, interviews, book reviews, and speeches from high-ranking Department of Defense and Air Force officials are included in AULIMP and it is the only free resource available in this subject area. EDS content includes titles, authors, subjects and descriptions where available.

arXiv

Owned by Cornell University Library, arXiv contains bibliographic records with links to full text for over 600,000 preprints of scientific papers, and includes papers in the fields of physics, mathematics, non-linear science, computer science, quantitative biology, quantitative finance and statistics.

BioOne Open Access Content

BioOne users without access through an institutional subscription are still able to benefit from BioOne Open Access content. The product of collaboration among societies, libraries, academe and the private sector, BioOne aggregates publications in the biological, ecological, and environmental sciences.

British Library EThOS

Produced by the British Library, EThOS (Electronic Theses Online Service) provides access to theses from participating higher education institutions in the United Kingdom. EThOS includes more than 290,000 theses dating back to the 1600s. The majority of EThOS content is in English. The EThOS site itself is open-access and many theses are available free-of-charge to download. Institutions that provide open-access theses are indicated in the list of participating institutions available at <http://ethos.bl.uk/HEIList.do?jsessionid=23F6C05EAF4037CE75C01229711B105D>.

For more information about EThOS, please visit http://edswiki.ebscohost.com/ETHOS: What_is_ETHOS.

ChemSpider

ChemSpider is an open access database, published by the Royal Society of Chemistry, the world's leading chemistry community. The database integrates data from hundreds of sources, and consists of properties and associated information for over 20 million chemical structures. All EDS customers may search ChemSpider metadata in EDS, and may freely access the content on the ChemSpider platform.

CogPrints

CogPrints is an electronic archive for self-archive papers in any area of Psychology, Neuroscience and Linguistics and in many areas of Computer Science, Biology, Medicine, and Anthropology, as well as any other portions of the physical, social and mathematical sciences that are pertinent to the study of cognition.

Digital Access to Scholarship at Harvard (DASH)

Digital Access to Scholarship at Harvard (DASH) contains over 8,000 scholarly articles, theses and dissertations, papers, and reports authored by Harvard faculty and students. The bibliographic data in DASH, as well as some full text, is openly available to the public.

Directory of Open Access Journals

Hosted by Lund University Libraries Head Office, DOAJ endeavors to facilitate access to freely available scientific and scholarly journals that use a quality control system to guarantee the content. DOAJ includes over 7,700 journals and 801,000 articles.

Government Printing Office Catalog

The U.S Government Printing Office provides publishing & dissemination services for the official & authentic government publications to Congress, federal agencies, federal depository libraries, & the American public. GPO resources that will be available through EDS include federal publications from the following catalogues: Congressional Serial Set Catalog, Congressional Publications, GPO Access Publications, Internet Publications, Periodicals, and Serials. The Government Printing Office Catalog is an open access resource that includes links to the content on the native interface.

Index New Zealand

Index New Zealand is a collection of metadata from about 1000 New Zealand periodicals and newspapers. Data contains titles, authors, subjects and descriptions along with links to fulltext of open access content when available. Subjects covered include general and special interest, social research, the environment, science, agriculture, current affairs, the arts and the humanities. EDS content includes titles, authors, subjects, descriptions and links to open access fulltext where available.

IndianJournals.com

IndianJournals.com is a multidisciplinary resource that provides access to over 240 English-language academic journals. Subjects covered in depth include agriculture, biology, chemistry, dentistry, economics, education, engineering, environmental science, information science, management, mathematics, medicine, physics, social science and veterinary science.

JSTOR: Early Journal Content

JSTOR's Early Journal Content includes journal articles published in the United States before 1923 and articles published in other countries before 1870, and includes discourse and scholarship in the arts and humanities, economics and politics, and in mathematics and other sciences. It includes nearly 500,000 articles from more than 200 journals.

The free Early Journal Content is available for use by anyone, without registration and regardless of institutional affiliation. The amount of free content will grow over time. As we add more journals to JSTOR, new articles within these time ranges will be added to the Early Journal Content, and will remain freely available. This represents 6% of the content on JSTOR.

LUNA Commons

Produced by LUNA Imaging, LUNA Commons provides open-access to hundreds of thousands of images for educational and public use. The following collections are available in EDS:

David Rumsey Historical Map Collection – Collection focuses on 18th and 19th century North and South American cartographic materials and includes atlases, globes, school geographies, maritime charts, and a variety of separate maps including pocket, wall, children's and manuscript maps. The digital images and associated descriptive data are © Cartography Associates.

Farber Gravestone Collection – Produced by the American Antiquarian Society, the Farber Gravestone Collection documents the sculpture on over 9,000 gravestones, most of which predate 1800. The late Daniel Farber of Worcester, Massachusetts, and his wife, Jessie Lie Farber, were responsible for the largest portion of the collection. Others whose work is incorporated into the collection include Harriette Merrifield Forbes, who worked in the 1920s mainly in Massachusetts, and Dr. Ernest Caulfield, who documented Connecticut grave markers.

Japanese Historical Maps – This collection of the East Asian Library contains about 2,300 early maps of Japan and the World, a selection of which are available online through LUNA Commons. The maps were selected by Yuki Ishimatsu, Head of Japanese Collections at the East Asian Library, and scanned and put online by David Rumsey and Cartography Associates.

OAIster

OAIster includes data harvested by OCLC via the Open Archives Initiative Protocol for Metadata Harvesting (OAI-PMH). This resource contains more than 25 million records representing digital resources from more than 1,100 contributors. OAIster records include freely available full text on the web.

OAPEN Library

Archive of European Integration - Research materials and publications related to European integration and unification, such as official European Union documents.

Industry Studies Working Papers - Research on the topic of industry studies from a wide range of academic disciplines and from scholars who have made significant personal investments of time in learning about specific industries.

Minority Health & Health Equity Archive - Research materials and publications pertaining to minority health and health disparities research and policy.

PhilSci Archive - Collection of philosophy of science pre-prints to promote circulation of new work.

USPTO Patent Applications

Produced by the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office (USPTO), the federal agency for granting U.S. patents and registering trademarks, the USPTO patent databases allow inventors to search existing patents and patent applications to see if a patent has already been filed or granted that is similar to their own patent. Searching all previous public disclosures (prior art), including but not limited to previously patented inventions in the U.S., is important to determine if the invention has been publicly disclosed and thus is not patentable. With EDS, users can search over 5 million patents dating back to 1976 and 3 million applications dating back to 2001. All EDS customers may search USPTO data in EDS and access full-text on the USPTO site.

USPTO Patent Grants

Produced by the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office (USPTO), the federal agency for granting U.S. patents and registering trademarks, the USPTO patent databases allow inventors to search existing patents and patent applications to see if a patent has already been filed or granted that is similar to their own patent. Searching all previous public disclosures (prior art), including but not limited to previously patented inventions in the U.S., is important to determine if the invention has been publicly disclosed and thus is not patentable. With EDS, users can search over 5 million patents dating back to 1976 and 3 million applications dating back to 2001. All EDS customers may search USPTO data in EDS and access full-text on the USPTO site.
